Subject: [External] Legal Malpractice Claim Against Robert J Corry Jr.; Corry & Associates (Denver CO)

The undersigned represents the judgment creditor/plaintiff in the matter of:

Delvin Drinkall, Plaintiff v. Robert J. Corry Jr. and Corry & Associates, Defendants in United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Minnesota, Adversary Case File No. 19-03072.

Please advise whether you currently provide or provided professional liability/malpractice insurance to the Defendants in the above-described matter at any time in the previous (2) years.

Thank you,

Adam J. Houck

Barry,

We are not amenable to stipulating to a vacation of the judgment. We are willing to discuss a settlement pertaining to the satisfaction of the judgment, however.

Thank you,
Adam

Subject: Drinkall matter

Adam & Paul – This email follows on our call. As I advised, we represent Robert J. Corry, Jr. and Corry & Associates. In advance of filing our motion to vacate, I wanted to inquire if you would stipulate to vacate the judgment that has been entered in favor of Mr. Drinkall in the adversary proceeding. As I related, it does not appear that Mr. Drinkall was entitled to judgment against Mr. Corry and his firm based on the documents that were filed in support of the motion for default. As a result, if you could let me know your position on this request at your convenience, I would appreciate it.

If there are any additional issues to discuss, do not hesitate to let me know.
